

Engineering Rotational Opportunities at New Mexico's Largest Energy Provider

- Details
- The intention is for participants to complete four to six rotations, with durations typically lasting approximately four to six months.
  - These are regular full-time job opportunities, not temporary internships.

Rotating Engineering Exposure System Reliability Management

- Leaders with a bachelor's degree or higher in electrical engineering, mechanical engineering or civil engineering.
- High GPA with involvement in multiple activities preferred.
- An opportunity for broad exposure to multiple facets of energy engineering over a 24 month period.
- Two positions beginning June/July 2018 and two additional positions January 2019.
- For Career Opportunities visit PNM.com/careers.

- System Reliability
- Maintenance Management
- T&D Substations and Relay/Communications
- Meter Department
- System Protection

- Commercial/Industrial Services
- System Reliability
- Residential Services
- Distribution Standards
- Distribution Operations Center/Dispatch

- Station Design and Construction
- Line Design and Construction
- Project Management
- Land Services
- System Studies and Capital Improvements
- System Modeling
- North American Electric Reliability Council (NERC) Compliance
- Support Operations
- 10 year Planning and Budget Support
- Contingency Planning
- New Service Reviews
- Distributed Generation Requests

Power Operations
PNM Business Operations

Training and Development

Various PNM Operations opportunities such as site visits, skills training, attendance at meaningful presentations and participation in applicable workshops and conferences to aid in his/her continued learning and professional development.

Program participants will possess the minimum requirement of a Bachelor's Degree in Engineering (Electrical, Civil or Mechanical) or any other discipline determined to be a future critical and necessary discipline within PNM Operations.

The participant will possess good academic records, good communication skills, and demonstrated leadership abilities.

For more details and to apply, please visit our career site at: PNM.com/careers. Please look for requisition # 6085899.
Deadline to apply is: March 4, 2018.

Talk to us.

