At the heart of the Midi region, Toulouse has always occupied an important place in the South-West of France. This 2000-year-old history shows itself in an architecture of brick and tiles that is typical of the cities, villages and farms of the Midi-Pyrenees region. Reflections of the golden light on the brick of Toulouse have earned it the name of the 'Ville Rose'. This very special colouring confers an atmosphere on the city that is at once gentle and warm.

During the first world war, military and aeronautical industry settled there, far from the north-east front line. Then came the Aeropostale saga, between the two world wars, and finally Airbus and CNES (the French space agency) gave Toulouse a prominent position in European aerospace activities.

General Information

The language of the conference is English. A valid passport is required for entry to France. Please contact the France embassy nearest you for specific details and visa requirements. There will be a technical Exhibition during the conference. More information will be available on our web site.

The banquet will take place in the Hotel Dieu Saint-Jacques and cocktails at the Toulouse City Hall.
